About Me

I am Jason Mitchell, a photographer helping corporate and personal brands create recognition and engagement with attention-grabbing imagery. I specialise in high-quality images designed to ably support the marketing and advertising objectives of your business. Celebrating 30 years in business working in the UK and a seven-year stay in Los Angeles, where I worked directly with international publications and corporations. I continue to take photographs for PR, corporate clients and schools, as well as national and international press publications. Some of my recent clients include The National Lottery, TGI Fridays, TUI Holidays, Bovis Homes, Miller Homes, Anglian Home Improvements, Krispy Kreme Doughnuts, Companies House, Alzheimer's Society, McCarthy Stone, Victoria's Secret and The Energy Efficiency Awards, amongst others. I am an Enhanced DBS Checked photographer. Recently, I was shortlisted for the Event Photographer of the Year awards. # WHY DO YOU NEED TO BOOK A PROFESSIONAL PHOTOGRAPHER?

When promoting your business or personal brand online, the use of attention-grabbing and eye-catching imagery to create engagement and recognition is of paramount importance. Search engines such as Google reward businesses that use original professional photography over generic stock photos. By using your own brand photographs of your staff, clients and products on social media, you are breaking down the barriers between you and your ideal client, thus creating a better relationship for the future. Create that online connection with your clients and give your website and social media that personal touch with professional PR, Event and Headshot photography.

“For over 9 years Jason has been photographing the Energy Efficiency Awards with professionalism and flair. Jason has become an important part of our success. It is his charming personality and ability to talk to our guests, as much as his photographic talent, that has ensured we keep coming back to use his services every year.”
